

Blue Spirit Drum Circle

NOW IN TWO LOCATIONS:

Madison, Indiana and Louisville, Kentucky

Drums have been in use as a ceremonial and festive communication tool for centuries and are considered to be the "instrument of the people."

Drum Circles consist of a gathering of people typically sitting in a circle while participating in a rhythmic jam. The rhythm creates a sense of togetherness and belonging, through self expression.

Drum Circles are not faith based. The important aspect of the Blue Spirit Drum Circle is that there are no rules or limits to self expression; you can drum, sing, chant, or dance, just let your inner spirit be your guide. Participation in a drum circle is appropriate for everyone, regardless of age or musical ability.

Fernando Rubio was born in Santiago, Chile and raised in Chicago. His rhythmic roots were influenced during the 60's through Latin music played regularly at home by his parents. He loves to play congas, djembe, and bongos.

Blue Spirit Drum Circle began open participation in December of 2008 and has been growing since. Fernando regularly attends other drumming circles when the opportunity presents itself and enjoys sharing his new found experiences with participants of the Blue Spirit Drum Circle.

Come join us or contact him for more information. He would love to hear from you and answer any questions.

Extra drums / percussion instruments will be available to support your drumming exploration.

Let us share in the self fulfillment of rhythm!
